Ghana-Guinea Dispute Threat To Africa Bloc

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—Africa's annual summit conference meets today with a bitter dispute between Ghana and Guinea threatening one of the biggest rows in the troubled three-year history of the Organization of African Unity.

Ghana detained 19 Guineans in transit through Accra on their way to the preliminary Council of Ministers meeting here a week ago. Ghana insists it will release them only when nearly 100 Guineans allegedly held in Guinea are released.

A three-nation OAU mission, which flew to Accra and Conakry to try to resolve the dispute, has met with no apparent success.

Ghana's military leader, Gen. Yakubu Gowon, is due here today. But Guinea's President Sekou Toure has said he will not come as long as the Guinea delegation is detained in Accra.

All hope of unanimity at the conference was wrecked by the Accra incident.

After a year that has seen the OAU torn by dissension over Rhodesia, distracted by military coups and shaken almost apart by the overthrow of former Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah, the African leaders had hoped the summit would restore some order to their ragged ranks.

The weeklong ministerial council meeting which was to prepare the way for the summit meeting has demonstrated more disunity than unity.

Big Mac Sets October Mark

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Lured by Indian summer weather, tourists helped the Mackinac Bridge set an October record for traffic and revenues, the Bridge Authority reported Friday.

Meanwhile, bridge workers are preparing for possibly their busiest day ever—the opening of the Upper Peninsula hunting season Nov. 12.

"Several October weekends saw motels filled as though it were midsummer," said Prentiss Brown, authority chairman. "People obviously were on the move."

The bridge recorded 104,712 crossings, compared with 95,642 in October of 1965, and revenue increased from $122,630 to $150,285.

For the first 10 months of 1966, traffic has totaled 1,200,025 vehicles, up 7.8 per cent from 1,108,828 for the same period last year. Revenues climbed from $5,008,524 to $5,503,448.

The bridge's busiest day so far was Nov. 12, 1965—the opening of the Upper Michigan deer hunting season—when 18,100 vehicles crossed. For this year's opener, the day before is Veterans' Day, a legal holiday, and the authority is expecting even heavier traffic.

Tiru Reports More Damage

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—The American submarine Tiru may be more badly damaged than first reported and could be grounded on a reef in the Coral Sea at least 10 days, U.S. and Australian naval officials said today.

When the Tiru lodged Thursday on Frederick Reef, 330 miles from the port of Mackay off Australia's northeast coast, it reported only slight damage and said none of the eight officers and 73 crew aboard was hurt.

But naval officials here said radio messages today from the submarine reported that sonar equipment and torpedo tubes in the bow were severely buckled.

Australian naval spokesmen said in Canberra seven-foot swells were preventing small boats from approaching the 1,335-ton sub to attach tow lines.

The Australian navy troop carrier Sydney was standing by as other vessels raced to the scene.

About one-third of the Tiru was on the coral reef, with the bow out of the water.

Florence And Venice Fight Flood Damage

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—The waters of the worst floods in Florence and Venice since the Middle Ages receded today, leaving the two museum cities blackened with mud and without vital public services.

Thousands of rescue workers struggled through sludge dotted with debris and stained with fuel oil. Streets became bogs and buildings were coated with mud below the second-floor level.

"The war, the entire last war, did not cause as much damage as the waters of the Arno River did yesterday," said Florence Mayor Piero Bargellini.

As the Arno River settled back into its bed at Florence and Adriatic Sea waters flowed out of Venice, other Italian cities remained inundated or became flooded.

Landslides, violent winds and floods — part of a huge storm that battered all Western Europe — took more than 40 lives in Italy alone.

The U.S. Embassy in Rome said it had no information about Americans in the flooded areas but added that there was no indication so far that any foreigners were among the victims.

In southern Austria, floods killed at least 11 persons. Dozens were missing and feared dead in the European storm and hundreds were injured. Destruction was incalculable.

As the floods began ebbing at dawn, authorities in Florence, the Renaissance art center of 450,000, and Venice began adding up what they feared was immense and irreparable damage to priceless cultural relics.

Some 50,000 relief workers, aided by dry weather after almost two days of rain, joined local volunteers to aid more than 100,000 Italians left homeless. The storm struck especially hard at north and central Italy.

Suicides Follow Halloween Prank

PONTIAC (AP)—A simple home. Charlotte had been found on a bed, a rifle beside her and a fatal wound in her chest.

Since then Howey had been getting threatening calls, accusing him of starting the trouble that culminated in the girl's death. His telephone rang early Friday morning and his wife heard him say, "No, it was not me. I didn't report it."

Howey departed normally, as for work, but shortly thereafter his wife couldn't recall having heard his car start and went to investigate. She saw Howey in the car, slumped over the steering wheel. All the car doors were locked.

A neighbor smashed a car window. A 20-gauge shotgun had been fired into Howey's mouth and he was dead. There was a note beside him.

Hazen said the note proclaimed Howey's love for his wife and daughters, and that God knew he didn't report the Hinton girl, Mrs. Bowen's daughter by a previous marriage.

Charlotte's family had nothing to do with the harassment of Howey, Hazen said.

The officer said he knew the identity of the complainant. It was not Howey, he said.

The deputy then went to the home of Charlotte's mother, Mrs. Ralph Bowen, and found the girl at home alone about 4:30 p.m. Since her mother was away, the deputy talked to the girl through a door. She admitted her part in the spraying prank. The deputy advised her he'd be back later to talk to her mother and stepfather and left.

Some two hours later the same deputy got a call reporting "a shooting" at the Bowen

'Reflation' May Be Culprit Of High Food Cost

TUSTIN (AP)—An official of the Federal Trade Commission says "reflation" may be boosting the housewife's grocery bill.

Dr. Fritz Mueller defined "reflation" as a time when costs are climbing within the food industry, and businesses all along the line from farmer to consumer find it expedient to adjust their profit levels, too.

Mueller was a speaker at an agricultural marketing workshop at Camp Kett, Michigan's 4-H center. Nearly 100 economists from 22 states attended the four-day program.

Dr. Don Paarlberg of Purdue University, who was an assistant secretary of agriculture under former President Eisenhower, said labor costs in food merchandising should come in for the same kind of scrutiny as management profit margins.

He said labor has almost paralytic control over many industries. And, he said, the public should know if labor is delivering a comparable degree of efficiency and productivity as that demanded of management to operate in a highly competitive system.

When prices go up, Paarlberg said, groups always are eager to point a finger and fix the blame.

"Irrespective of who wears the white hats," he said, "when consumer demand outruns supply, prices go up."

After-Breakfast Cigarette Makes 4-Year-Old Late

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—At a pre-kindergarten class in Baltimore, says Dr. Robert J. Wilder, a 4-year-old girl was late for school every day.

The child said she was late because she had to finish her after-breakfast cigarette.

The girl's mother told school officials that she allowed her daughter to smoke because she felt it would help the child relax.

"You can see the need for education about smoking," Wilder, assistant professor of surgery at Johns Hopkins University, told a meeting of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers Friday.

Johnson's Attack On Nixon Called 'Vicious'

Tay Ninh Fight Near Cambodia Grows In Fury

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Surrounded in thick jungle, a large Viet Cong force hurled half a dozen counterattacks at U.S. infantrymen in the battle for Tay Ninh Province today but were thrown back each time with heavy losses, U.S. officers reported.

"We have them boxed in, and they are trying to break out," one U.S. officer said.

Wave after wave of helicopters flew in U.S. troops to the battleground 12 miles north of Tay Ninh city near the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon. Possibly as many as 10,000 Americans were engaged.

U.S. officers said the American troops had perhaps 2,000 Viet Cong surrounded in an area long held by the Communists. But the officers added there might be a Red division — more than 6,000 men — in the general vicinity.

Pitched battles have erupted in three places in the past three days in the province which borders Cambodia and serves as a main infiltration route into the heart of Viet Nam.

The pattern of enemy attacks indicated a whole Communist division may be engaged.

In the air war over North Viet Nam, two more U.S. war planes were downed Friday, bringing the total reported lost in the north to 418, a U.S. spokesman said.

There was no letup in the Tay Ninh fighting today, a spokesman said. Several battalions of American infantrymen holding the Communist bunker complex they overran Friday were attacked six times this morning and evening.

A civilian irregular defense force comprised mainly of Nung tribesmen and their American officers was still fighting for its life to the west.

A U.S. spokesman said "multi-brigades" of Americans are now involved in the Tay Ninh fighting. This could be as many as 10,000 infantrymen.

There was speculation in Saigon that the Communist thrust in Tay Ninh, first detected Thursday when an "eagle flight" of helicopter-borne troops from the U.S. 25th Division spotted Communist troops in bivouac, might be the much-rumored attempt to score a victory against American forces prior to the Nov. 8 elections in the United States.

Elsewhere in Viet Nam, the ground war was quiet, with only the U.S. 4th Division reporting any contact.

Owosso Pilot In Attack On Barges

SAIGON (AP)—The Navy said today Lt. (jg) John C. Meier, 26, of Owosso, Mich., was one of several pilots who used bombs, rockets and 20mm cannon fire against Communist water traffic, destroying an estimated 50 per cent of the barges attacked near Ha Tinh and Vinh in North Viet Nam.

Capital's Cabbies In Flap Over Minitrains

WASHINGTON (AP)—Traffic bath no more furious foe than a mad cabbie. Neither, it may turn out, does the government.

Washington taxi drivers, who boast the cheapest big city rides in the country, are in a flap over government-sponsored tourist shuttles called minitrains — which run cheaper.

The result is some James Bond spying, threats of a taxi strike by some of the capital's 9,000 cab drivers and misunderstanding of what constitutes a tourist.

"A tourist," says Hampton Ashley, a taxi spokesman, "is not a State Department guy going to lunch."

"Back in October, it all seemed simple enough. The Interior Department planned an experimental five-week shuttle service, using trains from the New York World's Fair, to see if visitors would pay 10 cents to view city landmarks. If successful, it might be permanent."

The minitrains are actually open air carts with colorful striped canvas tops, like fringed surreys. They have rubber wheels and are called trains because "trains" can be linked together. Temporary federal employees operate them, and Park Service employees give lectures along the way.

There were flat tires, traffic jams, and in rain, the shuttles stuck in the mud. But tourists loved it.

So, apparently, did many more — the Interior Department says up to 2,000 a day. Government secretaries, leisurely lunch hour executives and congressmen rode between the State Department and the Capitol, down the Mall — up to 18 per cent.

Taxi drivers howled. "Unfair competition," said Ashley, manager of a firm with 700 cab drivers. "The government is interfering in private enterprise, using taxpayer's money and undercutting our costs."

Former VP To Present Reply In Sunday Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans have reacted sharply to President Johnson's slashing attack on Richard M. Nixon — the man often mentioned as a possible contender for the presidency in 1968.

Employing former President Harry S. Truman's familiar "give 'em hell" tactics, Johnson told a televised news conference Friday that Nixon is a "chronic campaigner" who "doesn't serve his country well" by raising doubts about American intentions in Viet Nam.

The former vice president promptly accused Johnson of making "a personal, partisan assault" in a "shocking display of temper." Nixon said he would make a more detailed reply to Johnson on nationwide television Sunday.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said Johnson's remarks were "a vicious personal attack" on Nixon. In a statement issued through his Washington office, Ford added "all Mr. Nixon did was to raise legitimate questions about our foreign policy. The American people should have forthright answers to all these questions from the White House."

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, chairman of the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee, said Johnson had brushed aside Nixon's "serious questions that deserve serious answers."

Morton said it was Johnson — "not Mr. Nixon, not the Republicans who went to the Manila conference before an election" — "when this country is always beset with emotional political overtones."

Johnson, in touching off verbal warfare that could develop into the hottest of the nearly concluded off-year campaign, took direct issue with Nixon's contention that the Manila conference offer to withdraw U.S. and allied troops six months after aggression is halted would leave South Viet Nam at the mercy of the Viet Cong.

Saying the Manila conference was committed to keeping troops there until violence, infiltration and aggression cease, he accused Nixon of trying to confuse the issue.

"Mr. Nixon doesn't serve his country well by trying to leave that kind of impression in the hope that he can pick up a precinct or two, or a ward or two," Nixon replied at a news conference in Waterville, Maine, that "despite the presidential temper I will continue to speak out, on Viet Nam. He repeated that a mutual withdrawal of free world and Communist forces would leave South Viet Nam in "the condition it was in when we went there," at the mercy of the Viet Cong.

Nixon said he was reserving the main portion of his reply to Johnson for a half-hour appearance on television Sunday. He will fill the time scheduled for a Republican film, abandoned Friday after Democrats' protest it was distorted and GOP leaders decided against sponsoring it.

Suspect 6 In Withrow Death

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Sheriff Douglas Harvey of Washtenaw County said Friday that a second autopsy on the body of Arnold Withrow had narrowed the number of suspects from about 30 to half a dozen.

"We're hot," Harvey said. "The new report fixes the time of death to within the first 24 hours of his disappearance."

Withrow, 17, disappeared from outside his home after a movie date the night of Oct. 16. Four days later, his nude body, bound with ropes and weighted with a concrete block, was found by hunters in a creek 15 miles northwest of Port Huron.

The first autopsy report indicated Withrow had been slain three days after he disappeared. The new report, Harvey said, convinced him that "he was killed within the first several hours after he was last seen."

Skiing Tops Girl Meets Boy Winter Sport

SNOW FORECAST — GIRLS WILL MEET BOYS: Via snowfalls and falls in the snow... Because skiing will continue to be the top "girl-meets-boy" outdoor sport this winter. A record horde of five to six million skiers will crowd the slopes. Two-thirds will be men (leaving a happy one-third girls), 60 per cent unmarried (at least, as the season starts), and the great majority under 30 (in fact, almost half, only 10 to 22 years old). Skiing is changing, getting less of a snow-and-sweat sport, more sophisticated... lots of caning, heated swimming pools, night life. More are flocking to skiing from other "thrill" sports—like kayaking, sports cars, surfing, water skiing, boating... on the West Coast, Rocky Mountains, around the Great Lakes and the Northeast states. Ties on ski clothes: Skiers will spend a billion dollars on the sport this winter... much on clothes. It's most important to buy stretch pants that fit you well in the seat, then in other places... Sweaters that are an easy fit are warmer, more comfortable, and should have a snug neck to hold in body heat... Your parka is your big attraction and this season's fashion-pacers will include quilted stretch nylon (matching, or in contrast, to pants), some "fake-fur" parkas (zebra, tiger, seal, cheetah)... and the bold new ski suits (for example, in big checks).

WILL SWEATERS SHRINK? U.S. girls like to wear sweaters hip-long and this year's tall sweaters stretch near to thighs. But, if sweater fades skip across the Atlantic from style-setting France, next year will see a change. French girls in general favor trim sweaters, and now the newest trend in this direction comes this fall from St. Tropez—the glittering Riviera resort famous for initiating scandals and fashions. It's the mini sweater.

NEW FASHIONS SIZZLE... in chopped meat! Your favorite hamburger sandwiches, first introduced at the St. Louis Exposition of 1894 (which also popularized ice cream cones), seem to be moving toward new, exotic developments that represent America's broad national culture. Since you eat more hamburger than anyone else in the world, you may want to be up-to-date on such maverick breeds of the modern burger as: the California Mummyburger—sticky with peanut butter, crisp bacon, guava jelly, spinach and lettuce leaves; the Mexicana—adds real hot chili, plus tomatoes and lettuce and chopped tortillas; the Bostonburger—Boston baked beans, Irish bacon, English mustard and onion; the Chinaburger—spiced up with sparerib sauce, chopped water chestnuts, sliced scallops and radishes; the Borschtburger—redolent with pickled beets, sliced hardboiled egg, mayonnaise and mustard. And the finale of finales, the Oliveburger Spectacular—bursting with chopped olives, eggs, onion, bread crumbs, cider, cheese, and any other wild ingredients you can think of.

TO SMOKE OR NOT TO SMOKE? Many guys and gals will be thinking about this question about now. The American Heart Assn. has put together an interesting "cigarette quiz" which should help you make the decision. The popular singing group, The McCoy's (called as "America's Teen-age Heart Ambassadors"), has taken up the no-smoke cause and if you want a free copy of the cigarette quiz booklet, write them at 200 W. 37th St., New York, N. Y.

Exchange Club Gives $2,000

The Escanaba Exchange Club meeting Tuesday night, voted to turn over to the Delta-Menominee Health Department the sum of $2,000. The money was raised from the club's rag drive and auction sale for dental care for underprivileged children.

The club also voted to donate all of its equipment presently at the High School and to give the rights to negotiate with the proper people, to the health department, for equipment on loan from various other agencies.

It was decided at a meeting in September with officials of the Health Department, state officials, and members of the local Dental Society as well as the Exchange Club, that the Health Department would take over the operation of the Dental Clinic, since the club was having difficulties in obtaining the services of a dentist.

The money turned over to the Health Department from the Exchange Club will be used to support the operation of a Dental Clinic for care of underprivileged children.

Hunting Fatality

NEWPORT (AP) — An 11-year old boy was fatally wounded in the stomach Friday when his brother's 22-gauge shotgun accidentally discharged. Dead is Paul Edwin Jaworski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Jaworski of Newport. Monroe County sheriff's men said the boys had just returned from hunting and the older one, Dennis, 17, was emptying his gun when it fired.

'Spiced Maple' Furniture Goal Of Hardwood Group

The newest rage in American furniture manufacturing may become one of the nation's oldest products — maple wood.

Members of the Northern Hardwood & Pine Manufacturer's Association were enthusiastic about the prospects Friday at a meeting of the promotion committee in Escanaba.

Maple wood has been widely used in furniture manufacture for years, but it has been a selective use. Much of the wood's natural beauty has been lost in selecting only the most even wood manufacturing, the committee believes.

That's why they are so excited about "Spiced Maple." "Spiced Maple" is a blend of the wood's natural qualities, including its here-to-fore believed imperfections.

"The idea is to use natural, rather than selected wood," said A. A. Baudek, general manager of Goodman Division, Calumet & Hecla, Escanaba. "We want to make use of the inherent characteristics of the wood."

Exhibit Liked Northern Hardwood & Pine Manufacturers Association built a complete exhibit around "spiced maple" recently at the International Machinery and Woodworking Show, Louisville, Ky. The idea was well received.

The exhibit, of which slides were shown Friday, included table and chairs, cabinets, wall moldings, and doors.

Besides saving furniture manufacturers a considerable waste, use would open up a much broader base of forest maple for hardwood harvest. Timber previously left uncut because of its believed imperfections would be in demand.

Meeting of the promotion committee was called to determine the next campaign to promote use of "spiced maple," along with other Northern Hardwood & Pine products. Under consideration was putting the Louisville exhibit in a mobile unit of some type for a tour of selected market areas.

Northern Hardwood & Pine Manufacturer's Association is an association of Lake States operators, primarily in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Values of products produced in the Upper Peninsula alone approach $2 billion, McGraw pointed out.

Greatest Events In American History No. 23

THEN, IT WAS CALLED
"SEWARD'S FOLLY": NOW, IT
STANDS AS A GREAT BLESSING

Most of us don't stop to realize that—but for the foresight of one man—Russia today might very well own a large chunk of North America, have a foothold on this continent, be able to send its people and its influence here, and be in a position to cause border incidents against the U.S. and Canada. As late as 1867 Russia owned Alaska. Secretary of State William Henry Seward then purchased Alaska for 7.2 million dollars (or about 2¢ an acre). But far from being a hero in his time, Seward was ridiculed; his purchase was called "Seward's Folly." As it turned out, however, Seward's decision ranks as one of the great pieces of public action in our history. Imagine what might have happened, had it not been for our 23rd Secretary of State, William H. Seward.

Parents And Youth Confer

School Sex Education Urged

The need for sex education in the public schools of the Upper Peninsula was suggested by the discussions and reports of the conference of parents and young people in Escanaba on Friday.

It won't be easy to accomplish such a program, indicated Dr. Robert R. Bell, associate professor of sociology at Temple University, Philadelphia, who was the keynote speaker. He said sex education is offered in very few schools of the nation. It was suggested for Philadelphia schools last spring, was immediately criticized and "nothing has been done since."

"Many adults need sex education—parents in fact—a few births do not make a person an authority on sex," Dr. Bell told the 265 conferees, about equally divided between high school and college students and adults.

Youth And Adults
The conference was sponsored by the Upper Peninsula Council on Family Relations, headed by Mrs. Irma Johnson, president, of Iron Mountain; Bay de Noc Community College, the Michigan Human Resources Council Division on Strengthening the Family and the U. P. Family Life Bureau. Lyle Plowman of Bay College was general chairman.

Dr. Bell said that any sex education program should have (Parents and children need to develop opportunities for communication, but they should be natural, said Dr. Bell. Thursday from 7 to 8 shouldn't be set aside for getting together. "It's got to be spontaneous; there can't be any: 'This is your day Son, what do you want to do with me?' and the son saying 'I want to play with the kids.'")

Not Early Enough
Some girls get involved through ignorance. (Bell: "I'm a firm believer in sex education at a very early age; in providing the answers to children's questions, but not overdoing it. We should develop a willingness to ask questions and that's rare in our society; it's an area that we tend to ignore. I can't see any place for sex education except the public schools. The sex urge may be as strong as the driving urge.")

Q. Who do girls in trouble talk to first. A. Their friends first. It's easier to talk about it the second time.
Parents don't talk about sex early enough.
Q. Why do parents who won't tell their kids about sex object to the schools doing it? A. (By student): They feel guilty about not having done it themselves, so they object to the schools doing it.

AFTER HIGH SCHOOL: WHAT?
For men: Military service, work, schooling, leading to maturity and experience in decision making.

Girls have an ambivalence here; some feel that their place is in the home; most want education for security and for self-realization.

Several veterans of military service attending Bay College said they felt they were much more certain about career choice and life goals since their service.

Many young people complained that their parents push them into vocations—and too early, while they're still in high school.

TALKING TO EACH OTHER
Getting things done by explaining the reason why is better than using parental authority.

Parents should respect children's confidences.

There's a problem of development in youth's reaching independence in decision making. "We overstate our case because our parents cut us down."

Valuing education is a personal thing.

Teens can't find a time with their parents for relaxed talking.

It's important for parents to open these channels before their children's teen years are gone.

Some teens take their problems to their parents; some to friends.

Some parents push their kids too hard.

Some parents don't want their kids to grow up.

Parents must learn that some fashions will pass.

Parents: At age 13 teens clam up.

Kids: Parents complain that we're conformists and all have long hair, but what they really mean is "Conform to our standards!"

Families should agree on ground rules.

TALK ABOUT DATING
When kids can't say no to the gang they say their parents won't let them; often they don't want to anyway.

What do you do when your parents won't let you bring your teen friends home?

Kids: Going steady in high school is related to insecurity.

Some kids are "forced" to go steady by their crowd's assumption that two dates means going steady. It's much better to shop around, get to know a lot of boys and girls. (This question wasn't resolved. Some teens defended going steady.)

There are too great social pressures to single out a person for early marriage.

"I am intrigued by the Escanaba Dating Pattern," Dr. Robert Bell, Temple University sociologist, told the U. P. Conference "Parents And Youth Talk About Understanding Each Other."

"When I get back to Philadelphia and explain to my students that in Escanaba the first time you date you go steady or you don't go out again, they'll say: 'We understand that OK, but what is Escanaba?'" the means of developing information for people of all ages and that it should be in the hands of persons with special knowledge of the subject.

The conferees heard an address on "Some Sources of Parent-Child Conflict" by Dr. Bell at William Bonifas auditorium and then went to St. Joseph Hall for table discussions of the conference topics and summations.

Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, summed up the discussions of the table groups on the four subjects:

TALKING ABOUT SEX.
Clergymen should be consulted more about sex problems.

Youths don't always realize that their parents fears for them grow out of parents' love for them and their responsibility to protect them.

Should parents admit their own mistakes? This was unresolved, some young people saying it would improve communications and others that it would reduce the child's respect.

Problem: To find a time and setting for communications.

Michigan Voters Will Go To Polls Tuesday

Lower Voting Age?

Adults To Give Answer Tuesday

Lowering the voting age to 18 is the only statewide issue on the ballot.

The Legislature passed the proposed constitutional amendment by a two-thirds vote in each house.

Both parties are nominally in favor of the issue and teenage Republicans and young Democrats, with financial backing from labor and others, have conducted statewide drives to get voter approval.

The ballot wording is:

Shall Section I of Article II of the State Constitution be amended to lower the minimum voting age from 21 years to 18 years?

Those in favor of the proposed amendment say:

1. The interest of 18-year-olds in citizenship is at a peak because of high school studies and elections in schools, but their interest wanes in the three-year waiting period before they become 21.

2. If young people are old enough to marry and to serve in the armed forces, they are mature enough to vote.

3. Young people are now better informed about government because of better schools and mass communications.

4. Since the proportion of young people is getting larger, it is only fair for them to have adequate representation through voting.

5. Georgia and Kentucky permit voting at 18 years. In Alaska the voting age is 19 years.

Those opposed to the proposed amendment say:

1. Young people might be too easily swayed by popular figures and pressure groups and would thus not use good judgment in voting.

2. There has been little demand on the part of the 18-year-olds to lower the voting age.

3. Voting requires maturity of judgment because of the complexity of governmental problems.

4. To lower the voting age might bring politics into the schools.

5. Forty-six states now require a voting age of 21 years.

Storms Delay Romney Blitz

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney and other top Republican candidates, frustrated by bad weather in their first attempt, tried again today to get a helicopter campaign blitz off the ground.

Snow and chilly winds resulted in cancellation Friday of the first half of a planned two-day airborne blitz of several Detroit suburbs by Romney, Sen. Robert Griffin, Lt. Gov. William Milliken and other GOP nominees.

But with improved weather today, campaign strategists decided to go ahead with today's schedule calling for 'copter landings at nine locations.

On Motor Tour

Three whirlybirds were used to carry the candidates to such places as a cider mill, a high school athletic field, a housing project and Lafayette Park in downtown Detroit. A press conference was slated to be held in a farm house at the end of the day.

Friday, the candidates set out by motorcade to cover as many stops as possible on the original airborne schedule. These included Lawrence Institute of Technology and the Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit, where Romney and Griffin were greeted by young priests carrying signs urging their election.

But the liveliest visit of the day was at the Ford Motor Company plant in Highland Park, site of the first mass-produced Model T Fords. The plant now turns out tractors.

Boos And Cheers

Boos and catcalls greeted Romney when he climbed atop a workers' clustered around the luncheon area. But there also was some applause.

Using a portable loudspeaker, the governor attempted to explain why he had vetoed a bill which would have eliminated the one-week waiting period for workers seeking unemployment compensation after a layoff.

The explanation—that the bad provisions outweighed the good—appeared to fall on deaf ears at some of the lunch tables, where workers continued to jeer Romney between sips of coffee and bites of sandwiches.

Williams Gets Back On Tour

DETROIT (AP)—With most of his voice back, former Gov. G. Mennen Williams returned to the campaign trail this week-end.

Williams addressed two solid Democratic groups Friday night at opposite ends of the metropolitan Detroit area, urging solid Democratic votes for state and local candidates.

Several thousand Macomb County Democrats turned out in East Detroit for free pizza, beer and political speeches at a rally financed by Secretary of State branch managers, local candidates and the Macomb County AFL-CIO Council.

He attended a similar 15th Congressional District rally in Romulus township, west of Detroit.

Williams and Democratic gubernatorial candidate Zolton Ferency attended the same meetings, but did not appear simultaneously.

Williams, bothered by an attack of laryngitis, had made only one public appearance in the previous 66 hours — before another solid Democratic group in Hamtramck.

His trial run successfully completed, Williams scheduled a full day of campaigning today in the downriver Detroit area.

As a safety measure, U.S. Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., put in an appearance — one of the few he has made in the current campaign—at both rallies.

Supreme Court Seats At Stake

Michigan voters will elect two Justices of the Supreme Court on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

The terms of the judges are for eight years and they receive salaries of $35,000.

The State Supreme Court is the highest court in the state and has general superintending control over all inferior courts. Decisions of this court are final unless a federal question is involved, permitting a party to carry an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

The names of the four candidates are on a non-partisan ballot.

The candidates are Chief Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh and Justice Otis Smith, both originally nominated by the Democratic party.

The Republican nominated candidates are Thomas Brennan, a Wayne County circuit judge, and Meyer (Mike) Warshawsky, of Grand Haven.

Two Braves, Emeralds On All-Great Lakes Team

MUNISING—Gladstone and Manistique each landed two men on the All Great Lakes Conference football team chosen by coaches of league schools.

Gary Sample of Manistique was chosen as one of three ends named to the offensive team, while end Mike Cole and line-backer Gary Larson of Gladstone and back Don McCurdy of Manistique were selected to the defensive team.

Coaches named offensive and defensive teams of B and 12 members when the votes were cast at positions on each unit. Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie dominated the teams, each placing five men. League champion Negaunee landed four players and Munising and Newberry each three.

Sample, a 6-foot-3 junior, caught 49 passes for 633 yards during the season. He scored nine touchdowns and also three extra points for 57 points to lead the Emeralds in scoring. Don McCurdy, named as a defensive halfback, was a strong point in the Manistique defense all season.

Gladstone's two members of the defensive team—Mike Cole and Gary Larson—contributed heavily to Gladstone's stingy defensive record. Despite a series of crippling injuries, the Braves recorded two shutouts and held two other opponents to only six points during the season. Cole is a 5-foot-10, 195 pounder. Larson, who recovered four opposition fumbles during the season, stands 5-foot-7 and weighs 165 pounds. As a running back, he scored eight touchdowns for the Braves.

Coach Don Protenhauer's Braves also had five men on the honorable mention list, offensive center Dick Frisk and guard Jim Cornell and defensive end Allen Rabitoy, tackle Mike Maniaci and back Dan Pepin. Making honorable mention for Coach Ron Rubick's Emeralds were Leonard Cour-naya, Bob Cowman and Steve Hoholik.

At the Conference meeting, coaches awarded championship trophies to Negaunee in football and Ishpeming in cross country.

The annual junior varsity basketball tournament will be staged during the week of Feb. 11-18. Gladstone will host Marquette, Ishpeming and Negaunee one section with the winner advancing to the finals Saturday, Feb. 18, at Munising against the winner of the championship.

Manistique, Newberry, Munising and Sault Ste. Marie eliminations. A freshman tournament will be conducted during the same week, with winners of the two sections playing their final game as the preliminary to the junior varsity championship.

Miami Favored But Watch Out

By The Associated Press
Miami, which upset Southern California a week ago, is being urged by its coach to remember a couple of other upsets.

The Hurricanes are favored to trounce Tulane in New Orleans tonight, but Coach Charlie Tate is reminding his squad that it was favored over the Green Wave the last two times the clubs met and was beaten both times.

Miami has lost only to Florida State and Louisiana State this season, the highpoint being reached last week when the Hurricanes knocked off the nationally-ranked Trojans.

Tulane is having its best season in a long time, having compiled a 5-2 record under new Coach Jim Pittman. Miami ranks seventh in total defense statistics and Tulane is second in the nation in rushing.

DETROIT RED WINGS' Alex Delvecchio (10) is sent flying after hip block by Toronto's Ron Ellis (8) as he charged across blue line with puck in game at Detroit. There was no penalty on the play. Red Wings and Maple Leafs played 2-2 tie. (AP Wirephoto)

Starr May Scramble Like Tarkenton Against Vikes

By The Associated Press
Bart Starr may be scrambling with Fran Tarkenton Sunday when Minnesota's improving defense tests the potent Green Bay Packers in the National Football League northland.

Tarkenton, the NFL's hottest quarterback in recent weeks, figures to lead the Western Division-leading Packers a merry chase at Green Bay. And the Viking defenders, who came of age last week, promise to make the going rough for Green Bay's backfield directed by Starr and bolstered by the return of Paul Hornung.

In throttling San Francisco 26-3 last Sunday, the Vikings did not permit a touchdown for the first time since they entered the NFL in 1961. Meanwhile, Tarkenton fired two touchdown passes, ran for two more and gained a total of 319 yards.

The scurrying signal-caller has completed 74.7 per cent of his passes in the Vikings' last three games, throwing for 836 yards and seven touchdowns. Minnesota won two of those three, dropping a three-point decision to Baltimore in between, for a 2-1 season mark.

Despite Tarkenton, the Packers, 7-1, rate a 10-point choice to handle Minnesota for the 10th time in 11 meetings. The Packers' defense, anchored by Ray Nitschke and Willie Davis, has yielded only 10 points in three straight victories.

Starr, who hit on 11 of 13 pass attempts against Detroit last week, is the league's No. 1 fli-ner. Hornung is available after missing two games with a neck injury.

The Colts, trailing Green Bay by 1½ games in the Western race, entertain the Washington Redskins in the day's interconference duel. St. Louis' Eastern Division leaders are at New York, Dallas' high-scoring Cowboys at Philadelphia, the Cleveland Browns at Pittsburgh, the Detroit Lions at Chicago, and the Los Angeles Rams at San Francisco.

In the American Football League, San Diego is at Kansas City, Buffalo at Miami, Denver at Boston and Houston at Oakland.

Shine Face Units
Baltimore's Johnny Unitas, who set an all-time record for lifetime passing yardage last Sunday, may prove too much for the Redskins, who have won five of their last six to remain in contention in the East at 5-3. The Colts, 5-2, have won three in a row and have beaten Washington six straight times.

The Cardinals, who moved one-half game ahead of Dallas last Monday by trimming Chicago 24-17, may find a breather in the injury-riddled Giants, but they are expecting trouble. New York led all the way in their first meeting before a Charlie Johnson-Billy Gambrell touchdown pass pulled out a 24-19 victory for the Cards in the closing minutes.

Dallas, led by quarterback Don Meredith, throws the league's No. 1 offense and No. 2 defense against the Eagles in a rematch of last month's 56-7 Cowboy romp. Meredith leads the NFL with 19 touchdowns passes and Dan Reeves tops the individual scoring parade with 11 TDs for 66 points.

The Browns, who have won four in a row in a bid to retain their Eastern crown, are heavy favorites to extend Pittsburgh's losing streak to six. Cleveland won the first meeting 41-10 and buried Atlanta 49-17 last week as Frank Ryan passed for four scores.

Rams Tackle 49ers
Karl Sweetan, the rookie quarterback who passed for 271 yards last week against the Packers, carries Detroit hopes for a repeat of its season-opening upset over the Bears. Dick Butkus, who sat out most of Monday night's loss to St. Louis with a pulled leg muscle, returns to bulwark Chicago's defensive brigade.

The 49ers will be out to reverse an early 34-3 loss to Los Angeles while the Rams will be bucking a three-game slide. Neither team could muster a touchdown drive in losing last Sunday but the LA attack led by Dick Bass and Tommy McDonald, may carry the day.

Chicago Seeks To Reverse 1st Lions' Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears, trying to break even, and the Detroit Lions, seeking a cellar escape, collide at Wrigley field Sunday in their second meeting of the National Football League season.

The Lions dumped the Bears 14-3 in a season opener at Detroit Sept. 11, but since have skidded to the bottom of the NFL's western division with a 2-6 record.

Bear fortune has been a little better, but last Monday night's 24-17 loss to the Cardinals at St. Louis just about blew Chicago's divisional title chances, anchoring the Bears with a fifth-place listing at 3-4.

Bears Burning
The Bears still are burning over a holding call against tackle Bob Wetoska nullifying an 80-yard scoring toss from Rudy Bukich to Dick Gordon which would have tied the Cards 17-17 in the last quarter.

Two plays after the recall, Card safety Larry Wilson picked off a Bukich toss and scampered 29 yards to give St. Louis a 24-10 edge.

The Bears are in improved physical shape for the Lions, having in harness linebacker Dick Butkus, who missed most of the Cardinal fray because of a pulled leg muscle, and tight end Mike Ditka, disabled in the fourth quarter at St. Louis.

However, the Bears still sorely miss flanker Johnny Morris and fullback Andy Livingston, serious knee-injury casualties, and may have to get along again Sunday without veteran defensive end Doug Atkins, who has a groin injury.

To Test Defense
Chicago's strong defense will be tested by rookie quarterback Karl Sweetan and sizzling receiver Pat Studstill. Sweetan chipped with 271 passing yards last Sunday against the Green Bay Packers.

Studstill currently is the league's hottest pass-catcher with 23 grabs for 375 yards in the last four Lion games. He grabbed a key scoring pass from now-sidelined Milt Plum in Detroit's opening win over the Bears.

Harvard Eleven Still Unbeaten

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — An Eastern Airlines shuttle plane carrying most of the Harvard football team developed a hydraulic system leak Friday and was unable to lower its landing gear until just before landing at Newark Airport.

Jack Sheehan, a Boston Herald sports writer who was aboard the plane, said the flight carried Coach John Yovicsin and the starting backfield as well as other team members and a few assistant coaches, 120 persons in all.

About a dozen emergency vehicles lined the runway as the super constellation landed.

The flight left Logan International Airport in Boston for the flight to New Jersey, where the undefeated Crimson was to play Princeton today.

As the plane began its descent into Newark, the captain announced that half of the hydraulic power had been regained, and he was able to lower the landing gear normally.

Just before that, one team member said: "at least we're still undefeated."

Griffith Fight Delayed Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Emile Griffith, the world's middleweight boxing champion, feels considerably less than good and his return title bout with challenger Joey Archer has been postponed for the second time.

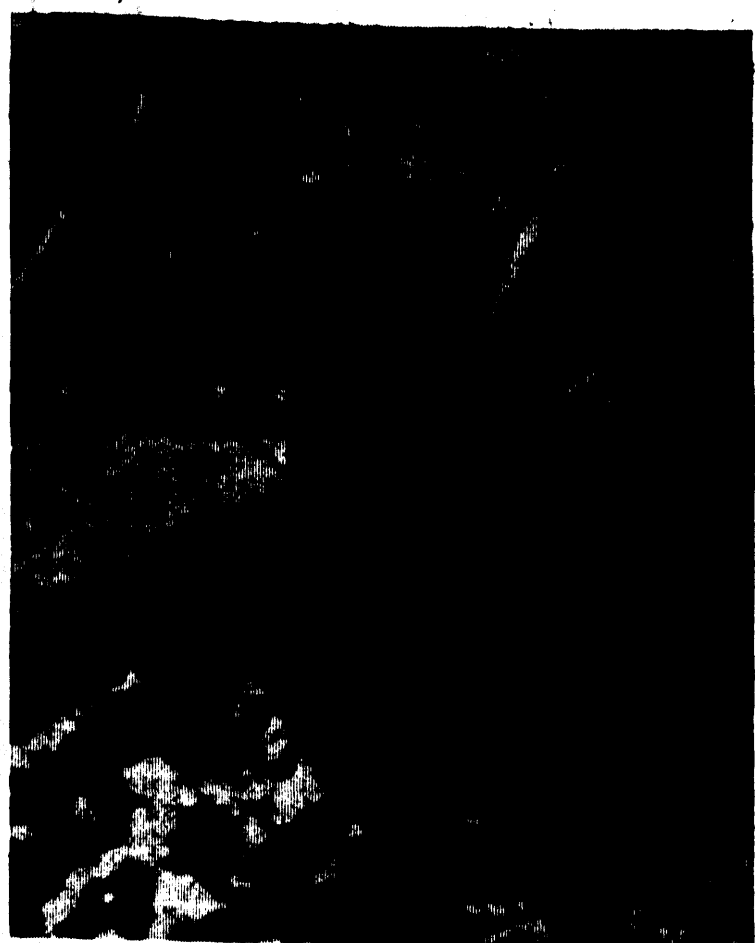

The two New Yorkers had been scheduled to go at it next Thursday night in Madison Square Garden. Instead the fight was rescheduled for Jan. 23 after an examination Friday showed Griffith had suffered a torn ligament in his right foot.

"I feel lousy," Griffith said at his Kiamacha Lake, N.Y., training camp after doctors for the New York State Athletic Commission had confirmed the original diagnosis of the champ's injury.

The mishap happened Thursday in the first round of sparring with Gordon Lott. "I twisted my right ankle," Griffith related. "It didn't feel bad, I started to box another round, then I felt a sharp pain in my heel."

The return bout between Griffith and Archer first was set for Oct. 21 at the Garden, but was postponed to Nov. 10 when Archer became ill with a virus.

Griffith's last fight was a 10-round decision over Archie Moore in 1964.

Pistons Fall:

Detroit Fans View Loser

DETROIT (AP)—Everybody loves in a winner, but the 8,251 fans who turned out to see one in Cobo Arena Friday night were disappointed.

"We didn't play together," muttered Detroit player-coach Dave DeBusschere. "We should have won it, especially here before the home fans."

Detroit fell to a 3-4 record in the National Basketball Association and the 120-115 loss to the Cincinnati Royals.

But the Pistons' heady glimpse of the heights was enough to bring out the largest crowd to see the team play in Detroit since a doubleheader in February of 1963.

One of the big reasons the normally lackluster Pistons have molded into a contender is the young player-coach, DeBusschere is the top scorer and rebounder on the team and is a driver who takes defeat hard. He looks like a thundercloud after a loss, and his jubilation at winning is quickly tempered by efforts to figure ways of making the team better.

After their four-game winning streak was broken Friday night, DeBusschere sat alone for a time, staring at his locker.

"We kept fighting each other on those rebounds," he said, pointing to the fact the Royals nailed 67 to 57 for Detroit. "We just should have won that one," he grumbled.

The Royals came from 10 points behind in the final eight minutes, hitting on 16 of 26 shots and outrebounding the Pistons 23-6 in the stretch drive.

Oscar Robertson got 34 points for Cincinnati, Jerry Lucas 21, Happy Harston 20, Adrian Smith 19 and Jon McGlocklin 17.

Tom VanArsdale got 24 points for Detroit and rookie Dave Bing 23. DeBusschere scored 18, but led the Pistons in rebounds with 13.

Clay Opens Camp For Houston Fight

HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay pitched camp in a downtown gym today, and onlookers had a warning from the champion himself not to be misled by his lackadaisical training style for the Nov. 14 heavyweight title bout with Houston's Cleveland Williams.

"I won't be looking my best in public," Clay said. "The real training won't be done in public."

The champ and most of his entourage arrived in Houston Friday, and Clay promptly called a news conference in which he dropped hints about an aching back and the possibility of his retirement.

He refused to offer any predictions about how long he thinks the fight will last, explaining, "if I say the first round, you might not come." Earl Gilliam, promoter of the fight, said he expects plenty of people to come to the Astro-dome — some 50,000. "It would take 52,000 for a $1 million gate," he said.

Nude On Cliff Is Blotted Out

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — The winsome Malibu maiden has disappeared, her shocking pink, nude voluptuousness blanketed by 14 gallons of drab, unfemale earth-colored paint.

And the woman who says she created the frolicking 40-foot-high running lady is disgusted.

Lynne Seemayer, 31, an attractive legal secretary, says she prepared six months for last Friday night's venture when, beneath a bright moon and above the headlight glare from passing cars, she painted the maiden.

The 105-pound brunette dropped by rope over the sheer cliff above a highway tunnel, cans of paint strapped to her waist. She says she spent 11½ hours painting and finished about dawn.

"I did it because the cliff was there," she said.

But the county road commissioner said the maiden was a hazard to drivers.

Mrs. Seemayer arrived at the tunnel Thursday as county workers splashed drab brown paint on the maiden's navel. The painting had without assault with paint remover and fire hoses. After sandblasting proved unfeasible, the paint was applied.

No Power Shift Planned During Johnson Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says President Johnson is not expected to have Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey act as a decision-making stand-in while the chief executive is under anesthesia for his operation later this month.

Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, said here he does not believe such a formal arrangement will be made — as it was on Oct. 8, 1965, when the President underwent surgery for removal of his gall bladder.

At that time, Humphrey was to have made any emergency decisions that became necessary while the President was on the operating table. None was required.

Mastodon Bones Are Found Near Sunfield

LAKE ODESSA, (AP) — The animal's head is almost a yard wide and more than four feet long—and it has been found in Michigan.

The massive creature of 10,000 to 15,000 pounds, however, is very dead.

It was a prehistoric mastodon, many of whose bones have been uncovered by an excavator southeast of nearby Sunfield in this area lying midway between Lansing and Grand Rapids.

It died some 5,000 years ago at least, because it was about then that these elephant-like giants became extinct. Its bones, however, are exceptionally well preserved.

Francis E. (Curly) Warner of Lake Odessa has uncovered a lot of odd things in 40 years of excavating work, but he got a shock when his mechanical shovel dragged up what obviously was a leg bone — about four feet long and thicker than a man's thigh.

The skull and upper jaw, which also contains teeth, weigh about 250 pounds. The teeth are about four inches wide.

Dr. Baker said mastodons browsed and foraged on brush and other vegetation in the wake of the Ice Age, but no one knows what caused them to become extinct.

In at least one other Michigan find, however, he said Indian artifacts had been found among bones, indicating they may have been hunted and killed by Indians.

Shows At Schools Warner doesn't know what finally he's going to do with his mastodon bones, but in the meantime school children in this area are getting a first-hand study of animals they've only heard about and merely seen drawings of.

Warner's 27-year-old helper, Keith, has been taking the bones down on straw in a kupa truck and hauled them around to schools in Lake Odessa, Sunfield, Woodland and Clarksville.

"It's out our window-shopping time in half!"
